If you do not have one a quick way to create your own reference is for you to post your entire form-submission information containing the minimum data requirements to <https://gist.github.com> as a public gist. You can use any other hosting resource (e.g., a blog or the <http://seclists.org/fulldisclosure> mailing-list archive or <http://pastebin.com>). This request is missing the proper affected/fixed version number. Please respond to this email when this information has been added to the public disclosure URL.
